Live, Cook, Love.

ILVE Brand History

Rooted in the heart of Italy, ILVE embodies Italian culture, design, and craftsmanship. Since 1952, every ILVE appliance has been designed and built in Italy, blending a reverence for beauty, proportion, and quality materials with a constant drive for high performance.

Design is central to ILVE, not an afterthought. Each range serves as both a practical cooking tool and a bold architectural feature for the kitchen, drawing on Italy's artistic, fashion, and design legacy to create a timeless, elevated aesthetic. Every piece is handcrafted with meticulous detail, combining premium materials, artisanal skill, and modern precision technology for both character and reliable performance.

ILVE is defined by its dedication to full personalization, with a wide selection of custom colours, trims, finishes, and layouts to suit any vision. More than just cooking equipment, ILVE celebrates Italian authenticity and bespoke design, made for those who see the kitchen as the heart of the home.
